Learn how to cook using a cast iron skillet! Why cook with cast iron? Cast iron doesn't contain potentially harmful chemicals used in non-stick surfaces on cookware. Cast iron skillets can be used in both the oven and on the stove. When seasoned properly cast iron skillets are non-stick. Cast iron is sturdy, doesn't scratch, and lasts forever. Cast iron is easy to clean. Cast iron can be used to cook over any heat source. Is cleaning a cast iron skillet hard? NOPE! Cleaning your cast iron skillet is fairly simple the key is to do it while the skillet is still hot. Unlike traditional cookware, cast iron cookware should be rinsed and cleaned immediately after use without letting it cool first. Simply scrape leftover food from the skillet and scrub using a brush in hot water. Avoid using any soap or steel wool on your cast iron skillet as these things may remove the seasoning.
