

Fashion Killa

The price tags on clothes weren't the only things that young fashionista Wynter Dias was accustomed to popping. For the right price, and with the right weapon, Wynter Dias had the ability to rid a person of any problem that they had. However, while solving everyone else's problems is her specialty, Wynter is also forced to deal with her own issues. On the path of seeking revenge for her father's death, Wynter deals with a budding career, falling hopelessly in love, being betrayed, and losing those closest to her. Will she be able to fix her dilemmas before they become too much to handle and eat her alive? Ultimately Wynter has to choose between toting a Birkin bag or a nickel-plated Beretta in the first installment of Fashion Killa!
